

ADVOCATE WILL RESUME ON AIR
TOMORROW, 10:15

In cooperation with radio station WORL, the Advocate resumes its series of Friday morning broadcasts tomorrow after two blank weeks, caused by the fact that Christmas and New Year's fell on Friday.

Several people who have not heard previous broadcasts have inquired as to the nature of the Advocate's program. It is simply a survey of events, activities and ideas which have cropped up in the town during the past week and is prepared and delivered by the editor of this paper.

He will broadcast tomorrow morning (Friday) at ten-fifteen. On most radio sets Station WORL is found at 920. Next Friday, January 15, the broadcast will be moved ahead to 9:05 a. m., and will continue at that time until further notice.

MR. AND MRS. KING
RE-UNITED WITH DOUBLE FUNERAL

Were Old Arlington Residents. Married Forty-Five Years.

After living together for forty-five years as man and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. King (Mary A. Ghaney) were re-united in death Monday morning with a special double funeral at their late home, 11 Brattle street place, followed by high mass of requiem at St. James

Tax Titles Decrease
For the First Time
Since Depression

For the first time since 1929, Arlington showed a decrease in the number and amount tied up in tax titles at the end of 1936, says Town Treasurer Charles A. Hardy. The tax titles acquired by the town in 1936 totaled $153,489.44, as compared to $156,790.93 in 1935. Until the present moment tax titles had increased sharply every year since 1929.

Tax collections also showed a marked improvement. As the year closed, Tax Collector Edward A. Bailey found that the real-estate taxes were 74% collected, as against 71% for the same time last year.

During the past two years the town has borrowed about $190,000 on tax titles, but there is only $9,683.77 left to pay against that account. So the $153,489.44 that the town now has tied up in tax titles, less the above small debt, is practically a reserve fund, nothing having been borrowed against it, as yet.

Kept Busy Handling
Registrations For Community Classes

For one-half hour preceding the opening of evening classes at the high school last Monday, eight people were put to it to handle the rush of registrations. All the classes were well-attended and many more are expected to enroll on Thursday.

The new classes are Applied Psychology and Stamp Collecting and are to be held on Thursday evening. There is also a class in Spanish for beginners. The sewing and knitting classes will meet twice a week because of the large size.

Donald Reed, who spoke about the $25 tax limit last Monday, was substituting for Professor Miller of Tufts College. Because of illness, Professor Miller exchanged lecture dates with Mr. Reed, and he now plans to speak on the first Monday in February.

Sisters Share Same
Room in Maternity
Wing at Waltham

[From Boston Post]

Two sisters, who share a two-family house at 5 Dorothy road, presented their husbands with babies two days apart and are now sharing the same room at the Waltham Hospital.

Monday, Mrs. William J. Connell became the mother of a son. Her first child died, and the six-pound baby, now resting comfortably at the hospital is her second. The daughter born to Mrs. Garfield Hyde is considerably larger than her cousin. She weighs nine pounds, six ounces. Both the mothers and their babies are doing well, hospital doctors say.

Town Hall Jammed
For Science Lecture

In spite of inclement weather, Robbins Memorial Town Hall was completely filled, as is always the case, by the audience at the Christian Science lecture Sunday afternoon. Automobiles were parked for blocks around. In addition to the regular seats about seventy-five were placed on the platform.

William D. Strong, C. S., Cambridge organist, entertained the audience for a half hour prior to the lecture with his superb piano playing. Mrs. Hattie S. Gale presided and introduced the speaker, William Duncan Kilpatrick, C. S. E., of Detroit. The free lecture was presented under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Cambridge.

Members of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church seldom, if ever, use notes, but as the address delivered is being revised by the lecturer, his manuscript was at hand. There may be further changes in the lecture; so it does not appear in this issue of the Advocate.

January 4, 1937
Arlington Advocate,
Arlington, Mass.
Dear Editor:—

As I understood it, the recent public hearing before the Board of Selectmen was for the purpose of discussing the petition of the Ring Sanatorium and Hospital for permission to build a new and modern building on a portion of the property already owned and occupied by that institution.

According to the account of the hearing which appeared in the Advocate, there was, in my opinion, no valid opposition to the petition itself. Those who spoke against the project did so, first of all, because they did not want to grant any further degree of permanency to the institution. The purpose seemed to be to prevent the institution from improving its physical property and from replacing normal obsolescence, so that eventually it would be driven from the site

Paul Cunha Wins
Color Essay Contest

The printing department at Arlington High School, under the direction of Lawrence P. Arthur, the instructor, has been running an essay contest on "The Importance of Color in Printing." A local committee of judges has picked three winners, who will receive prizes offered by the International Printing Ink Corporation of New York, which sponsored the contest in cooperation with the National Graphic Arts Education Guild.

The three Arlington winners selected by the judges were Paul Cunha, first; Fred Donnelly, second, and Peter O'Sullivan, third. They will receive certificates of award and prize sets of "Three Monographs on Color." One of their essays will be selected by the

Will Hold Hearings
On 7 New Streets

The joint board of Selectmen and Public Works has voted its intention to lay out seven new streets during 1937, and hearings will be held Tuesday evening, January 12. Notice of the hearings have been sent to all the property owners who come under the payment of betterments provision of the law.

The streets contemplated are as follows:—

Parker street, from Mary street to Dorothy road.

Victoria road, from Summer street to Mystic street.

Webcowet road, from Medford street to present end of acceptance.

Sherborne street, from present end of acceptance to Webcowet road.

Endicott road, from Churchill avenue to Gray street.

Lennon road, from Bow street to Blossom street.

The joint board has also voted to alter and reconstruct the easterly side of Tufts street, widening it by eight feet, from Massachusetts avenue to Broadway. A hearing on this will also be held Tuesday evening, January 12.

SUNDAY IS PULPIT
EXCHANGE DAY IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Name of Visitor is Kept a Secret Until Time of Service.

Sunday morning nine churches of Arlington will observe Pulpit Exchange-Sunday. Each church will have some visiting guest preacher, pastor of another local church. Announcement of the name of the visiting clergyman will not be made until the time of the service.

This plan has been followed for a number of years in our community with increasing interest and attendance on the part of churchgoers. It has greatly helped in promoting the unusually cordial relations which prevail among the various churches here.

The co-operating churches include: First Baptist, Trinity Baptist, Heights Baptist, Orthodox Congregational, Park Avenue Congregational, First Methodist, Calvary Methodist, First Parish Unitarian, and First Universalist.

Governor Brackett's
Widow Was Beloved
Arlington Resident

Throngs of old friends and neighbors attended the funeral services for Mrs. Angeline M. Brackett, wife of the late John Quincy Adams Brackett, former Governor of Massachusetts, which were held Sunday afternoon in the First Parish (Unitarian) Church and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. John Nicol Mark with the assistance of Rev. Frederick Gill, D. D., pastor emeritus.

The service was preceded by the slow movement ("Going Home") from Dvorak's New World Symphony, played by the organist of the church. This was followed on the organ by Handel's Largo, and by "Lead Kindly Light", sung by the Weber quartet.

"We are gathered here to pay tribute," said Dr. Gill, "to one we intimately loved, to one we held in deep regard, to a woman of rare winsomeness and beauty of character."

From the Proverbs he read the description of the virtuous woman and likened it to the character of Mrs. Brackett. He then recited a poem by Wordsworth. Another song from the quartet, "Nearer My God to Thee," was followed by the pastor, who read two poems especially

Police Officer Bolster
Dies Suddenly at Home

Officer William Bolster of the Arlington police department died suddenly at his home early this morning. He was twenty-nine years old and lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bolster and two sisters at 9 Egerton road. He was appointed a reserve police officer on April 15, 1929, and became a regular on January 1, 1931. Time of funeral services will be announced later.

666 Arlingtonians
Aided by Community
Fund During 1936

Appealing to the residents of Arlington to do their full share in Greater Boston's Community Fund Campaign, January 25 to February 9, Philip A. Hendrick, community chairman, points out that Arlington is well served by the 104 hospitals, health and social welfare agencies supported through the fund. Although centrally located in the city of Boston, the service of these agencies, however, reaches out to 300,000 men, women and children living in the 42 cities and towns comprising Greater Boston.

Statistics, Mr. Hendrick reveals, shows that 666 people of Arlington, at a conservative estimate, were served by agencies in Greater Boston's Community Fund, other than hospitals and clinics, during the past year.

Community Fund hospitals and clinics, alone, on a given day (October 21, 1936) gave service to 41 citizens of Arlington at a loss of $78.66 for the one day's care. If, as it is believed, this was a typical day, the year's deficit for care of suburban patients mounted to more than $900,000.

The local organization is now being perfected with a volunteer group of captains and solicitors.

Warrant For Town
Meeting Now Open

The selectmen opened the warrant for the annual town meeting Monday night and announced that it would close at eight o'clock on the evening of February 8, when the board will meet for the purpose of drawing up the document. Articles for the warrant must be filed before that date and time and must be signed by at least ten registered voters.

The warrant for the special town meeting of March 24 was opened and will close at the same time as stated above. In the case of an article for the special warrant, the signatures of one hundred registered voters are necessary.

Henry F. Long, commissioner of corporations and taxation for Massachusetts, held his audience in spell-bound admiration when he addressed the Arlington Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly meeting in Wyman's Tavern Tuesday evening. The big dining room was crowded to the doors.

After President William A. Platine had opened the meeting and reports of officers had been heard, there was a short memorial service for the late William Howwell, former chairman of the commercial division. Arthur Birch read a tribute, which is reproduced on Page 8, and a concealed quartet, made up of Walter Swensen, Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, Arthur J. Mansfield and Parker Wood, sang "Abide With Me", while the lights in the hall were dimmed. They sang a beautiful version, arranged by Leonard Wood.

The first speaker was Joel Eastman, who made a moving appeal for the Greater Boston Community Fund. He was followed by Frank Lansing, who spoke for the President's Ball Committee. He explained the purpose of the annual ball of January 30th, and said that the local committee had raised $335 to be spent in Arlington last year for the treatment of infantile paralysis cases, and $145 was sent from here to the national committee.

In words of graceful tribute, Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder, chairman of the program committee, then introduced the speaker of the evening, Commissioner Long. Mr. Long spoke for over an hour in his rapid-fire style, covering a tremendous amount of ground. He succeeded in making a relatively com-

$15,000 Home Being Built For Dr. Carroll on Chestnut St.

The office of the Building Inspector has closed the records for 1936 and finds that activities during the past year reached a total of $875,076, as compared with $632,912 for the year before.

It is explained that the difference is smaller than might have been expected because a great many permits were filed during November and December of 1935 in anticipation of actual building operations in the spring of 1936.

Thus the total for last month, $66,432, was $12,743 less than for December, 1935.

The most expensive item filed last month was the fifteen thousand dollar home, now being built for Dr. W. L. E. Carroll, next to the residence of Dr. Shea on Chestnut

Obituaries
WILLIAM P. CONNERS

Funeral services for William P. Connors, age 65, were held at St. Agnes Church at 2:15 last Sunday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. Father Matthew J. Flaherty, conducted the services. Mr. Connors died after a week's illness at his home, 22 Cleveland street, of bronchial pneumonia. He was the husband of the late Johanna (Cronin) Connors, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Connors (Margaret Connolly). He was born in Arlington, where he had lived all his life. Mr. Connors retired in 1927, after thirty years work as a plasterer.

The pall-bearers were Dr. Paul Barry, Joseph Cronin, Francis Cronin, Eugene Sheehan, Daniel J. Hickey and James Lyons. The funeral was private because of family illness.

Mr. Connors is survived by a daughter, Miss Irene Connors, and a son, James H. Connors, both of 22 Cleveland street. He also leaves a daughter, Mrs. William Cox of Arlington, and a brother, John Connors of Malden. Burial was at St. Paul's Cemetery.

CORNELIUS P. CRONIN

The funeral of Cornelius Patrick Cronin was held from his home, 38 Lewis avenue, on Monday, January 4. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9:00 in St. Agnes Church by Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, assisted by Rev. James F. Grimes, deacon, and Rev. Justin Durocher, subdeacon. Rev. John B. Mullin of Chestnut Hill, Brookline, sat within the sanctuary. Mr. Cronin's six grandsons, all brothers, John E., Jr., Paul, Robert, Joseph, Philip, and Thomas Cronin, acted as pallbearers.

Mr. Cronin was born in Ireland, November 9, 1856, and had lived in Arlington since he came to this country sixty years ago. He was one of the oldest and best-known of Arlington residents and was highly esteemed by his many friends. For many years Mr. Cronin was gardener for the Robbins estate. In 1911 he retired after 40 years in that capacity.

He is survived by three daughters, Mary E., Frances, and Margaret E. Cronin, who lived with their father; and by two sons, John E. and Cornelius P. Cronin, both of whom reside in Arlington. Interment was in the family lot in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, where committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Flaherty, assisted by Rev. Fr. Mullin.

MARY A. LOWDER

After having lived in Arlington for 25 years, Mary A. Lowder, wife of the late Michael Lowder, died at her home, 17 Marathon street, on December 31. A requiem high mass was celebrated in Immaculate Conception Church at 9 o'clock last Saturday morning. The following were pallbearers: George Lowder, Joseph Lowder, Charles Lowder, George S. Lowder, William Lowder and David Leary. She was born in Charleston 82 years ago to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moore (Catherine Dunigan).

Mrs. Lowder was buried on January 2 in the Old Calvary Cemetery, Boston.

on January 1. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated on Monday morning by Rev. Fr. Crowley at St. James' Church. The bearers were: Thomas Roome, Fred Hibbett, Herbert Hibbett, William Hibbett, Walter Harrigan and Arthur Harrigan.

Mrs. Roome was born in Boston sixty years ago and had lived in Arlington for the past five years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Monahan (Helen Barry). She leaves two sons, Frederick Roome and Frank Roome, and a daughter, Dorothy Roome, all of Arlington. Mrs. Josie Menadier, a sister of Mrs. Roome, lives in Dorchester, while Mrs. Elizabeth Harrington, another sister, lives in Somerville. Interment was at Holyhood, Brookline, last Monday.

MRS. CAMILIA COPELAND

Camilia (Garrett) Copeland, 12 Glen avenue, widow of David Nelson Copeland, died at her home on January 2, after an illness of two weeks. The funeral services were held Tuesday at 2:30 at the Saville and Kimball Funeral Home, 418 Massachusetts avenue. Rev. Wolcott Cutler, pastor of the St. John's Episcopal Church, Charlestown, assisted by Rev. Henry G. Budd, Jr., pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church here, conducted the services. Mrs. Copeland, who had been a practical nurse for the past five years, was born 63 years ago to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garrett (Jane Bebee) in New Carlisle, Quebec, Canada.

She is survived by a son, Charles S. Copeland of 12 Glen avenue; two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Smith of Waverley, and Mrs. Mary Fogell of Cleveland, Ohio; a sister, Mrs. Jane Barber of Boston; four brothers, George Garrett of Portsmouth, New Hampshire; Charles Garrett of Gloucester, Arthur and Alfred Garrett, both of New Carlisle, Quebec; and four grandchildren, Florence, William, Sydney, and Royal Copeland of Melrose. Interment was at Mt. Pleasant.

Curry School Gives Annual Holiday Parties

The young people of Arlington and vicinity were well taken care of by the Curry School of Dancing during the holiday season. A pro-holiday "formal" (the invitation series sponsored by a group of Arlington matrons) was held in Legion Hall on December 19th and voted "the best yet". Mrs. Edward Leonard in blue lace, and Mrs. G. W. Benway in a smart black and white dinner gown, received. Acting as ushers were Messrs. Robert Hancock, Clifton Orchard, Chester and George Hill, Charles Poole and Herschel and Russell Curry.

That afternoon the younger children held their Christmas party in Odd Fellows Hall, with Mrs. Nelson Bowers and Mrs. E. A. Barnard receiving in lovely blue afternoon frocks. Robert Bowers, Billy Marshall, Kenneth Marshall and Robert Anderson presented the class and their young guests in a grown-up manner and all the favors and ice-cream made them a happy group.

On January first at four o'clock in the same hall the party for the Junior High group of 100 was a jolly occasion. Mrs. Harry Hunter and Mrs. Robert Black were the matrons. The hall was lovely with many Christmas trees and wreaths to give it the right atmosphere. Eight boys acted as ushers and the elimination dances and noise-makers gave plenty of opportunity for the young people to realize the New Year was ushered in properly. The young ladies, many of them in their first formal gowns, were adorable and made a lovely picture.

The group in the evening of advanced pupils were matronized by Mrs. C. Frederick Evans and Mrs. Fletcher Lawson, the former in black evening dress and the latter in blue lace. Presenting the 80 young people were Edison Chick, Edward Dodge, Wallace Flynn, David Gately, Richard Heald, Ralph Neas, Minot Percy and Donald Armitage. They too found plenty of chance to make the air ring and show that they had become real dancers. At all of the parties Russell Curry gave two interesting tap numbers to the joy of the young people as well as the crowded balcony of happy parents.

On January 2nd the high school group met with Mrs. George Barker and Mrs. David Wilcox receiving in lovely dinner gowns. Chester Davis, James Wilcox, Norman Hill, William Walsh, Herbert Mower, Charles Poole, Robert Kade, assisted Mrs. Curry as ushers. At the end of the happy evening some of the trees were moved in the center of the room and at a given signal lovely streamers were thrown which made a pretty picture.

lally loved by Mrs. Brackett and which, he said, mirrored her own belief in the verities of life and life immortal.

During the singing of "Till We Meet Again" by the quartet, friends were privileged to gaze for the last time upon a face dearly loved in the community. The casket was set amid a great profusion of floral tributes.

The ushers were William P. Elwell, Reginald B. Elwell and Robert N. Elwell, grand-nephews of Mrs. Brackett, and John G. Brackett, Jr., her grandson. Interment was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery. She died on the last day of 1936 at her home at 87 Pleasant street.

Angeline Peck was born in Boston, daughter of Abel Gaylord and Elizabeth Boles Peck, eighty-eight years ago. In 1850 her father built the mansion house, which was recently demolished to give way to the new edifice of St. John's Church and brought the family to Arlington. Miss Angeline was educated in the private schools of the town and was graduated from Arlington's Crotting Academy. Shortly afterward she married John Quincy Adams Brackett, a lawyer, in Boston, where the couple lived at Union Park. Four children were born to them—John Gaylord, William Wallace, Clifford Brown and Beatrice. William and Clifford died in infancy.

In 1890 Mr. Brackett became Governor of Massachusetts. During his Lieutenant-governorship he built the house at 87 Pleasant street, which has been the Brackett home ever since. Mrs. Brackett, a dignified and respected first lady of the state, gracefully took her less conspicuous place in Arlington's affairs after Governor Brackett had retired from office. Here in her former home she became active in church and philanthropic organizations, chief of which being the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion. She was the first president of the Arlington Circle. Besides various other civic activities, she was a charter member of the Arlington Woman's Club and a member of the First Parish (Unitarian) Church.

Ex-Governor Brackett died in 1918, and in 1921 another great sorrow entered Mrs. Brackett's life when her lovely daughter, Beatrice, passed away. Surviving Mrs. Brackett are her son, Judge John G. Brackett, and three grandchildren, June Clark Brackett, John G. Brackett, Jr., and Janice Boles Brackett.

A Tribute

(As written for the Arlington Woman's Club and read to the members this afternoon by Past-President Laura D. Hardy.)

In the recent passing from our midst of our dear friend, Mrs. John Q. A. Brackett, the Arlington Woman's Club has lost a devoted and loyal supporter. As a charter member, her sympathy and keen interest in all new and forward-looking movements, helped in many ways to launch this new venture.

While essentially modest and self-effacing, preferring always to remain a quiet worker in the ranks, during all the years that have passed, her ever helpful advice and interest in each unfolding development in our club life, has added materially to the growth of our organization.

Truly it may be said that everything pertaining to good in our civic life, in church activity and all phases of welfare work, have been strengthened by her heart-felt and practical support.

An outstanding example of her desire to give of herself in helping others, is the Florence Crittenton Circle in Arlington, of which she has always been Honorary President. This group owes its existence to her inspiration and to her continued devotion to the work, so near her heart.

We are grateful for this long and beautiful life of gracious kindly deeds and quiet charities.

Her loving personal sympathy in all one's pleasures and sorrows, the kindly acts of neighborliness and courtesy, the warm hospitality of her home, with its dearly loved garden, all remain to us a precious heritage.

And ever the brightness and gaiety of her always youthful spirit and whimsical vein of humor so often bubbling to the surface, made friendship with her a joy and will ever remain a treasured memory in the hearts of those now missing her gracious presence.

With a firm faith in continued life and happiness, a rare and beautiful soul has passed to its reward.

"E'en as she trod that day to God,
So walked she from her birth,
In simplicity and gentleness and Honor and clean mirth."

In closing I wish to read a poem, "On Growing Old", which, it seems to me well expresses the spirit of life which Mrs. Brackett exemplified in every way.

"Plan for Old Age"

By ELAINE V. EMANS

"There are so many, many souls who go
Most gallantly and tall to meet old age;
So many who pin courage over woe,
And such a throng of silent ones who wage
With heads held high, a war on doubts and fears,
And Oh, so many bearing flags of song,
That we must all, in going down the years,
Refuse to be less brave and gay and strong!

"And let us learn to keep an open mind
A sense of humor, and a reverent soul,
And never be too busy to be kind—
Playing so valiantly this strange new role
That watching ones who love their youth, can say:
'I should not mind so, growing old that way!'"

Feagans and Gilmours Return from Florida

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gilmour, Master William Gilmour, and Rev. Grady D. Feagan have recently returned from a few days in Florida. They went by auto. The roads were beautiful and well marked and they were able to make record time without so much as a puncture to detain them.

Mr. Feagan reports that the orange grove section was never more beautiful. The fruit is now ripe upon the trees and there is an abundant crop. The Floridians say that there are more tourists in Florida this season than in any since the depression.

In Miami the people are now travelling in the thinnest Summer garments, the men often in shirt sleeves. Mr. Feagan enjoyed surf bathing every day and was treated to ripe strawberries straight from the garden. While there, he went fishing in the Bay of Biscayne and caught several snappers. Mrs. Feagan's two sisters, Louise and Mercedes, were with him on the fishing expedition and caught fifteen fish between them.

Mrs. Feagan went with the party going down. Their daughter, Marcia, went a few days before them on the train with Mrs. Feagan's sister. Practically all of her relatives were together on Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmour and their son William spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. William Gilmour, Sr., in St. Petersburg.

DAVENPORTS TALK TO DAUGHTER IN SWITZERLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Davenport of 26 Frost street, Morning-side, got a thrill Christmas morning when with the aid of the trans-Atlantic telephone, they were able to talk with their daughter, Miss Catherine G. Davenport, who is studying at the Geneva College for Women in Switzerland. Mrs. Davenport called from her home at seven in the morning, which was one o'clock in the afternoon in Switzerland.

On the day after Christmas Miss Davenport left on her vacation for St. Moritz, where she enjoyed ten days of skiing.

FIRE IN CLOSET

Slight damage was done by fire Friday noon in the Oliver Creelman home at 15 Windsor street. The blaze started in a closet and was confined to that spot. The house is owned by Robert A. Sullivan of 83 Bay State road, Belmont.

RING SANATORIUM ANSWERS ATTACKS

er of the zoning laws to permit the erection of a new building. Board of Selectmen, Town of Arlington, Massachusetts.

Gentlemen: I wish to express our appreciation for the courteous and fair handling of the hearing in reference to our petition last evening.

Respecting your request that we speak only on the subject of the petition, we did not attempt to challenge statements made by the opposition which we could have done successfully, and we therefore would like to submit a few facts to disprove some of the points of objection:

In several years we have received no direct communication in the nature of a complaint in reference to our institution or our patients. During that time we have had no escapes.

With no exception those who spoke in opposition to our petition have made no effort to visit our institution and have no reliable information as to the type of cases treated and the manner of treatment.

The proportion of mental cases in relation to the whole number of cases treated in 1935 was 26.1%. These cases were all of the mild mental type. Non-mental patients represented 74.9%.

The number of patients in the entire institution as of December 1, 1936 was 36; the number of employees, 85. Of the employees 4 are physicians residing in the institution, 50 are nurses of which 20 are graduate nurses.

We do not accept as patients criminals, degenerates or feeble-minded persons.

In recent weeks we have had one patient brought in by persons believing him to be under our care. The fact was that he did not belong to us. In the past, there have been several cases of this kind.

Parties given by our nursing school are always properly chaperoned and close at no later than twelve o'clock, midnight. Hamburg Hall is also frequently used for community purposes and medical group meetings.

In making a survey preceding the hearing on our petition we found that the majority of property owners either adjacent to or directly across the street from our property were in favor of our proposed building. We should be pleased to furnish the names and addresses if desirable.

It is the intention of the Directors to move all patients located in our property surrounded by Park, Oakland, Hillside Avenues to the proposed new building and there is no intention of using the above described property if any when we are able to build.

We have the approval and endorsement of organized medicine and because of the status of our institution Arlington Heights is well and favorably known by the medical profession throughout New England.

Further, we would like to call to the attention of the Board that we believe that the Ring Sanatorium has the largest private payroll in the Town of Arlington and that we probably demand less return for the amount of taxes paid than any other form of development in this location. Our tax base will be very materially increased by the proposed new building and the property bordering on Hillside, Park and Oakland above mentioned will also be released eventually for development. Distance from neighbors would be increased from 25 to over 200 feet.

It is our plan to landscape and beautify the undeveloped section of our property facing on Oakland Avenue and to adequately surround our entire property by such trees and shrubbery as may properly isolate us from the highways. Our plans also include a surgical emergency room which will tend to assist us in the good neighbor policy we have always pursued in aiding the many of our neighbors who do come to us for assistance in time of need.

We realize that many of the points mentioned herein are not directly relevant but in as much as we feel that our good name was rather unfairly attacked in the open hearing it is our obligation to our far-reaching clientele to state the real facts.

Respectfully,
Ring Sanatorium and Hospital
By Hallam T. Ring,
Vice-President.

FIRE STARTS IN CELLAR OF UNOCCUPIED GARAGE

Sunday morning a fire was discovered in the cellar of the unused garage at 175 Broadway, now owned by John T. Hope of Charlestown, and an alarm was sounded from box 135. "All Out" was rung in thirty minutes later.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Early to Go
The liver should pour out two quarts of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.
Laxatives are only make-shifts. A mass bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two quarts of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. Etc.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 10.

The Golden Text is: "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies" (Psalms 23:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall desire. . . . And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized: but to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared" (Mark 10:35, 39, 40).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The nature of Christianity is peaceful and blessed, but in order to enter into the kingdom, the anchor of hope must be cast beyond the veil of matter into the Shekinah into which Jesus has passed before us; and this advance beyond matter must come through the joys and triumphs of the righteous as well as through their sorrows and afflictions. Like our Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being" (p. 40).

LOCAL SEXTET MEETS FIRST DEFEAT OF CURRENT SEASON

Newton Wins, 2-1, as Favored Arlington Plays Listless Hockey in First Two Periods. Attempted Garrison Finish Falls Short of Goal.

By J. Leo Donohue
Newton High School hockeyists upset the Arlington apple-cart last Saturday by a score of 2 to 1 in a Boston Garden set-to. This marked Arlington's first defeat of the current season. The local sextet was picked to swamp Newton by at least three goals, but they failed to click. As usual, Arlington played poor hockey in the first two sessions, giving Newton many a shot at Dutton. In the final third the local lads tried to pick up where they left off in the Medford game the week before, but Newton nipped the assault by playing strictly defensive hockey.

Brown of Newton caused quite a stir in the hearts of the Arlington fans at the five-minute mark when he jammed home the disc off Dutton's stick for Newton's first score. Disheartened by this unexpected goal, Arlington let the opposition skate all around them. It was only the fine work of Dutton in the goal that prevented many more scores.

Arlington filled the air with rubber in the second period after Brown tallied again against Dutton. Butterick, Newton goalie, was forced to retire to the Newton coop momentarily for first-aid after stopping a Larry Cousins shot with his head. Midway through the second session, Coach Downes sent in four forwards to convoy the puck into Newton territory. Awed at this sudden change in tactics, Newton seemed to be stunned and unable to fight back, but they soon collected their wits and sealed the puck far down the ice out of danger.

The old Arlington fighting spirit was in evidence as the team came back for the final session. Cousins stormed down the ice and golfed the rubber into Butterick's mid-section. Johnny Chipman skated in from the opposite side of the rink and pushed the puck over the crease line for a score as the clock ticked 1:53. Five men were brought up into Newton ice after this goal and Butterick took one of the worst beatings a group of schoolboy fans ever saw. In his attempt to clear the puck away, Butterick was accused of throwing the puck, calling for a penalty shot from the 25-foot spot. Cousins gave Butterick a few gray hairs as the puck went by him only to hit the left-hand post and roll out of danger on the penalty shot. Arlington continually kept the puck in front of the Newton cage for the rest of the period, but was never lucky enough to connect with the tying goal.

The score:
NEWTON — Brown, Bradford, 1w; Green, Lane, Carder, c; Turner, Barry, Cole, rw; Mason, Thompson, ld; Nichols, Lane, rd; Butterick, g.
ARLINGTON — Babine, Prior, rw; Chipman, Flores, c; Duffey, Adams, 1w; Benham, rd; Cousins, ld; Dutton, g.
Score—Newton 2, Arlington 1.
First Period—Newton: Brown, 5:02. Second Period—Newton: Brown, 1:30.
Third Period—Arlington: Chipman (Cousins), 1:53.
Penalties—Mason (board check), Turner (tripping), Green (charging). Referees—Kelleher and Jeremiah. Time—Three 12m. periods.

HOLLIS — MACKAY
Ethel Lavinia MacKay of 49 Brantwood road, daughter of Mrs. Thomas MacKay and the late Mr. Thomas MacKay, was married to H. Stuart Hollis of New York City and Bermuda yesterday afternoon. Rev. Laurence L. Barber performed the ceremony at the Orthodox Congregational Church at 4:00. Miss Alice Shepherd played the organ.
Mr. Hector Vincent MacKay, brother of the bride, gave her away, while Donald and Irvin MacKay, nephews of the bride, acted as ushers.
The bride wore a gown of twilight blue alencon lace, princess style, and a matching hat. She had a corsage of pale pink camellias. Mrs. MacKay was gowned in grape wine velvet with a matching hat and a corsage of gardenias.
Miss MacKay was graduated from the School of Nursing, New England Deaconess Hospital, and from Columbia University. The bridegroom prepared for college in New England and took his degree at Cambridge University in England. The couple will reside in New York and Bermuda.
The wedding was attended by members of the family and intimate friends.

Jimmied
Mrs. Richard White, 144 Wildwood avenue, informed police that there was a prowler in her garage Monday night about seventy-fourty-five. The following evening she found that the front door of her home had been jimmied.

TO the keen eyes and quick wit of Captain Roy Keeler of the Pan American Airways System, four Trinidad youths owe their lives. A giant Clipper, in command of Captain Keeler, had taken off in a stiff gale from Port au Spain and had begun to nose its way northward along the Windward Islands which sprawl like ducks at rest on the bosom of the Caribbean. About four miles off shore from Trinidad, Captain Keeler, glancing seawards, saw four men struggling desperately in the water, trying to right an upturned sailing boat.

The waters of the Caribbean were too rough to risk a landing, but Captain Keeler heartened the men in the water by dropping low above them to let them know that their plight had been seen. At the same time he radioed the Pan American station at Port au Spain of the men's predicament, and he continued to circle the capsized craft until a launch of the company, which had set out at once, reached the scene and picked up the sailors. When they were in the launch and headed back to shore, it was learned that they had been in the water for more than two hours and were rapidly becoming exhausted when they were sighted by the Clipper.

ARLINGTON FIVE SWAMPS MELROSE IN OPENING GAME
Scores Easy 43-18 Victory. Coach Bill Lowder Uses Thirteen Men in First Team Contest. Second Team Also Wins.

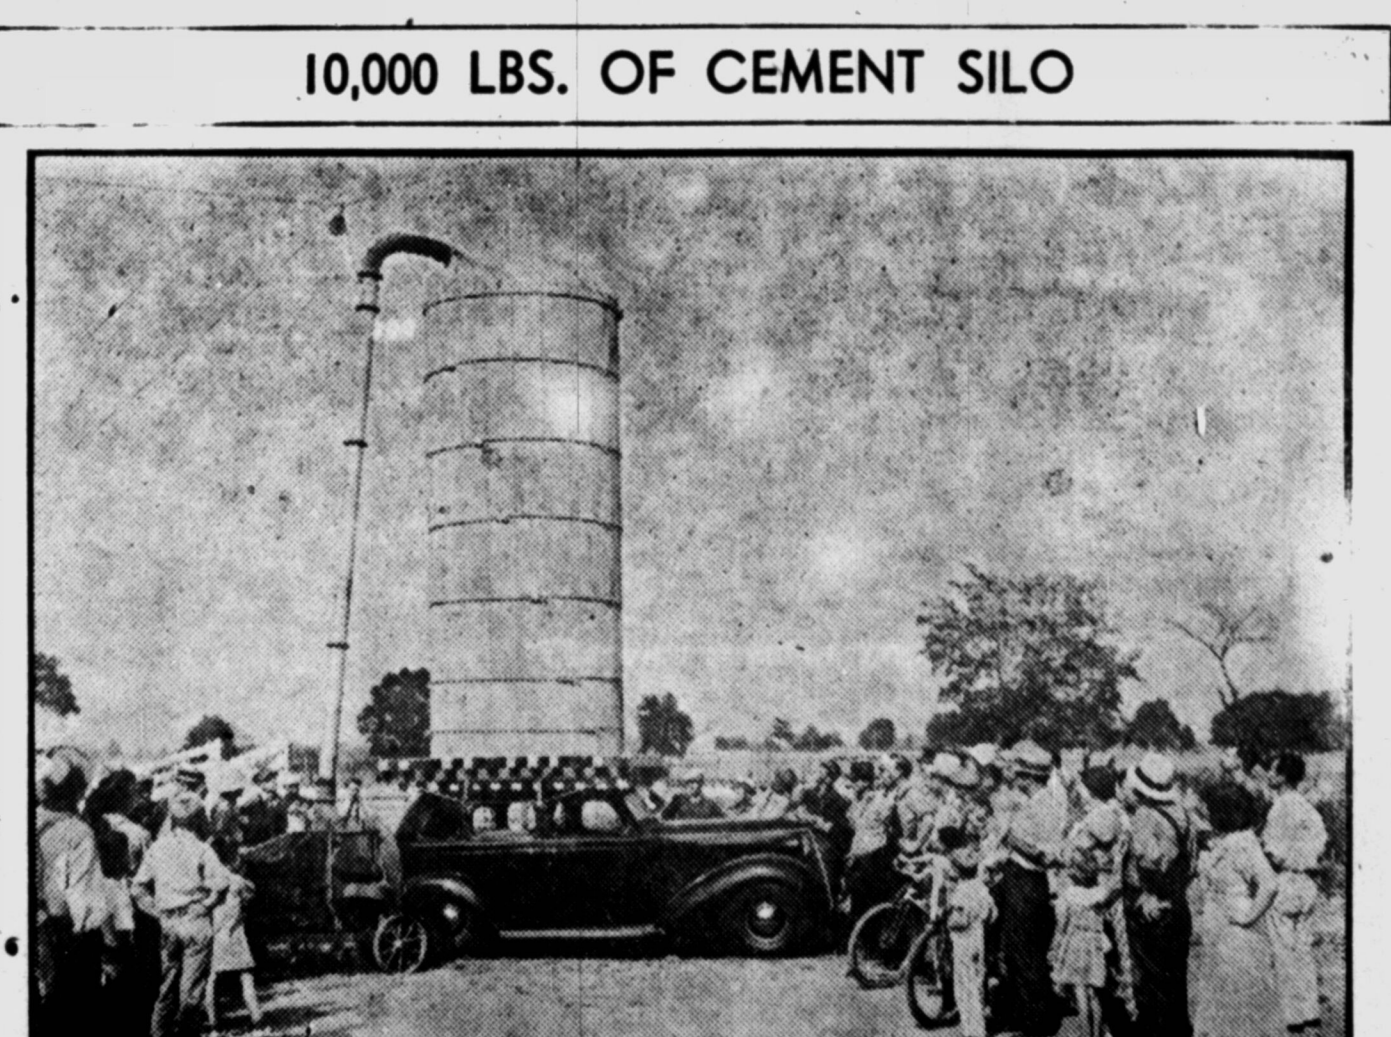

The Arlington High School basketball team welcomed Bill Lowder's return as coach by romping to a 43-18 victory over its old rival, Melrose High, at the High School auditorium, last Tuesday afternoon, in the opening interscholastic contest of the season.

The team, although green, showed great skill in handling the ball. Mike Burke made many solo dashes through the Melrose team. Win Oliverio played a good, steady game, being in the thick of the fracas every minute. Dick Clarke and "Mush" Corbett played their forward positions in mid-season form. "Long John" Cashman has developed even more speed than he possessed on the gridiron and is a good basketball player.

Win Oliverio opened the scoring by sinking a push shot after about a minute of play. Lindburg of Melrose tied the score up a few plays later, but Cashman took a Clarke rebound off the backboard and looped the ball through the strings to place the local team in the lead. Baskets by Burke and Corbett and a foul shot by Oliverio gave Arlington further advantage, which was never overcome. The score at the end of the first period was Arlington 11, Melrose 4.

Melrose opened the second period with an onslaught on the home team's basket. After letting the visitors make about a dozen shots at the basket without sinking one,

10,000 LBS. OF CEMENT SILO

Ten thousand pounds of cement silo did not crush the all-steel body of the 1937 Studebaker Dictator Sedan shown above. A regular farm silo—five tons of it—was built upon this Studebaker at a farm near South Bend recently and the safety steel body stood up perfectly. The doors opened and closed easily with the silo on the roof. The photo shows the farmers shooting silage into the silo.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Early to Go
The liver should pour out two quarts of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. One dose of your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sick, weak and the world looks gray.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mass bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two quarts of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. Pleasant, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

The firm of Cohan and Harris which now resumes after a lapse of seventeen years was formerly one of the most successful ever to produce in the annals of American drama. Its banner flew over more than fifty plays and musical comedies on Broadway during the period from 1904-1919 and companies of these trouped all up and down the land, as many as fifteen of them operating simultaneously in various seasons. Their first venture was "Little Johnny Jones", a musical comedy by Mr. Cohan in which he and his parents, Helen and Jerry Cohan, appeared at the New York Theatre, Broadway and Forty-fifth Street, now the site of an office building and picture house. After "Little Johnny Jones" came a whole series of other successes, many of them written by Mr. Cohan. Among them may be mentioned "George Washington, Jr.", "The Yankee Prince", "The Little Millionaire",

Club Activities

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

A meeting of the Arlington Junior Woman's Club was held last night in the Junior Library Hall. Marjorie Rimbach, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mary McGivern. A very entertaining talk was given by Miss Marjorie Manning, president of the Friends of the Drama. Miss Manning reviewed the different plays of the past season and read a scene from the Jane Cowl success, "First Lady."

A ski motion picture and lecture will be presented by Baron O. L. Cyr on Saturday, in the Junior Library Hall at 7:30. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

All members of the club are requested to bring their membership tickets to every meeting and each member will be requested to show her ticket before being admitted.

Rehearsals have started for a one-act play, "Maid Service," which is to be given on Mother's Night, February 1. The members of the cast are Mary Brown, Eleanor Byrne, Marjorie Rimbach and Rita Keefe. The play is being coached by Elaine Downe Pease.

GARDEN CLUB

"Family Night" will be observed by the Arlington Garden Club tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7:00 p. m., in Robbins Library Hall. The meeting will be open to the families and guests of the members, also to the waiting list and the members of the Junior Garden Club.

The feature of the evening will be an illustrated lecture on "The Realm of the Honey Bee," by Prof. George A. Meigs of the Essex County Agricultural School at Hathorne. The lecture is instructive and entertaining, and has proved very popular wherever it has been given. A large attendance is expected.

PARMENTER P. T. A.

The January meeting of the Parmenter P. T. A. will be held next Tuesday, January 12, in the school hall. The guest speaker is to be Dr. Harvey Spencer of Dr. Thom's Clinic at the Children's Hospital. Dr. Spencer is also the director of the Habit Clinic on Rutland street in Boston.

CROSBY P. T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Crosby P. T. A. will be held Tuesday, January 12, at 8:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter who has been the guest speaker for three consecutive years, will lecture on "Romanic Isles of the Caribbean" and will show beautifully illustrated pictures.

There will be the usual social hour with refreshments served by the hospitality committee, and the teachers will be in their respective rooms from 7:30 to 8:00 to confer with parents.

BRACKETT P. T. A.

The January meeting of the Brackett School P. T. A., will be held on Tuesday evening, January 12th, at 8 p. m. The program is in charge of Raymond E. Shepherd, who has promised a talk by Russell Burkhardt, Junior High Master in Newton. There will be music as well as refreshments.

"Forty-five Minutes from Broadway", "Fifty Miles from Boston", "The Talk of New York", "The Man Who Owns Broadway", "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford", "Seven Keys to Baldpate", "Hit the Trail", "Holiday", "The Fortune Hunter", "Officer 666", "Stop Thief", "Young America", "On Trial", and "The Royal Vagabond".

The partnership was dissolved shortly after the actors' strike in 1919. Mr. Cohan and Mr. Harris electing then to go each his own way as an individual producer, though they have retained through the years a warm friendship and mutual admiration. Mr. Cohan put on a series of plays of his own authorship, "Mary", "The Meanest Man in the World", "Little Nellie Kelly", etc., and other successes including "So This is London", by Arthur Goodrich, and then contributed his acting talents to "Ah Wilderness", the Eugene O'Neill play produced by the Theatre Guild, which had a long run on Broadway before he appeared in it here. Mr. Harris meantime carved out a similar career of success in production, beginning with "Six Cylinder Love" back in 1919 and down through "Rain", four "Music Box Revues", "Once in a Lifetime", "Of Thee I Sing" and "As Thousands Cheer" to the two great successes of the current season on Broadway, "You Can't Take It With You" and "Stage Door". He has produced on an average of at least one smash hit a season.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

An open invitation has been extended to each Knight of Arlington Council to attend a reception to be tendered State Deputy Patrick J. Moynihan, this evening (Thursday) at Ye Lantern, Pond Lane.

The committee has arranged an interesting and varied program as follows:— Presentation of new service emblems to the Past Grand Knights of Arlington Council, reception to the clergy of the town, a message from District Deputy Leo C. Donahue, entertainment and a collation.

This program, which will launch the forward movement of the Order in Arlington, is the first of many interesting programs planned for the new year by the following committee: John J. Ellingwood, chairman; Dennis J. Collins, James J. Golden, Jr., George M. Dolan, and William P. O'Connor.

FRIDAY SOCIAL CLUB

The next meeting of the Friday Social Club will be held Friday afternoon, January 15, at the home of Mrs. W. H. King, 14 Richardson avenue. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Francis Conway and Mrs. Chester Eaton.

TOWER MOTHER'S CLUB

The Tower Mother's Club will meet Monday evening, January 11 at the home of Mrs. W. C. Sisson, 264 Park avenue. The program will be in charge of the president, Mrs. Raymond D. Shepherd and the subject for discussion will be "Consumer Education."

HARDY P. T. A.

The January meeting of the Hardy P. T. A. will be held Tuesday evening, January 12th at 8 o'clock in the school hall.

A motion picture entitled, "Four Neighbors," will be shown, and there will be a fine musical program.

The teachers will be in their rooms to confer with parents from 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

To Talk To Ship At Sea Following Junior West P. T. A. Meeting

Some member of the Junior High School West Parent-Teacher Association will have the privilege of talking to a ship at sea or to various other distant points free of charge during the exhibition to be given by the telephone company at the next meeting which will be held at the school next Wednesday evening.

The exhibition will be held, following a short business session. Refreshments will be served at the end of the evening.

On the evening of January 20, the association gives its annual bridge and whist party with a door prize, table prizes, and prizes for the high scorers. Tickets may be obtained from the members of the committee or at the school.

James J. Flynn is now president of the Junior High West P. T. A.; Joseph Barry, vice-president; Mrs. Claude Bower, secretary; Mrs. A. A. Dodge, program chairman; Mrs. Paul Power, membership; Mrs. John Mahoney, hospitality; Principal Hawkes, and Mrs. Powers and Mr. Smith, teachers, are also members of the executive board.

Bradshaw Friendly Holds All-Day Meeting

The Bradshaw Friendly Union of the Orthodox Congregational Church held an all day meeting Monday, January 4th, opening with sewing for the Boston Children's Mission, and work for Symmes Arlington Hospital. This was in charge of Mrs. William A. Tibeau and Mrs. Archibald C. Eagleson. At noon a delicious luncheon was served in the church vestry by the Harmony Group, and chairmanned by Mrs. Frank Savage, at which the speaker for the afternoon meeting, Mrs. Royal G. Whiting of Weston, was a guest.

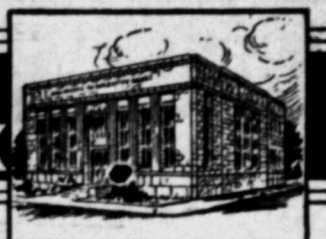

Mrs. Whiting, who is New England secretary for the Council of Social Action for the Congregational denomination, brought to her audience a different phase of church work in that she spoke on such vital questions as child labor, the teachers' oath legislation, international relations and other subjects of a social and civic nature which today should be occupying the attention and action of the church and its organizations. Mrs. Whiting urged her listeners to keep informed on national affairs as well as of the state, and to let our representatives in the state and nation know how we feel on these important subjects.

Mrs. W. K. Cook, a past president of the Bradshaw, conducted the devotional service, and a flute solo was given by Rowland Beers, accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. William E. Luford reported the net receipts of the recent fair as $1,022.11. Mrs. H. B. Wood, chairman of the fair, gave

D. A. R.

The January meeting of Menotomy Chapter, D. A. R., will be held at the home of Mrs. Mortimer H. Wells, 4 Brantwood road, on Friday afternoon. The speaker will be Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, State Chairman of National Defense Committee.

ARLINGTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK

TWO PLANS TO CONSIDER WHEN BUYING OR BUILDING A HOME

1.—Co-operative Bank Mortgage Plan:—

Term 12 to 13 years.

You save regularly towards the mortgage in small amounts through taking out serial saving shares. These shares, together with the dividends they earn, build up a total value equivalent to the amount of the mortgage and are then cashed to pay off the mortgage.

2.—Direct Reduction Plan:—

Term—5 to 20 years.

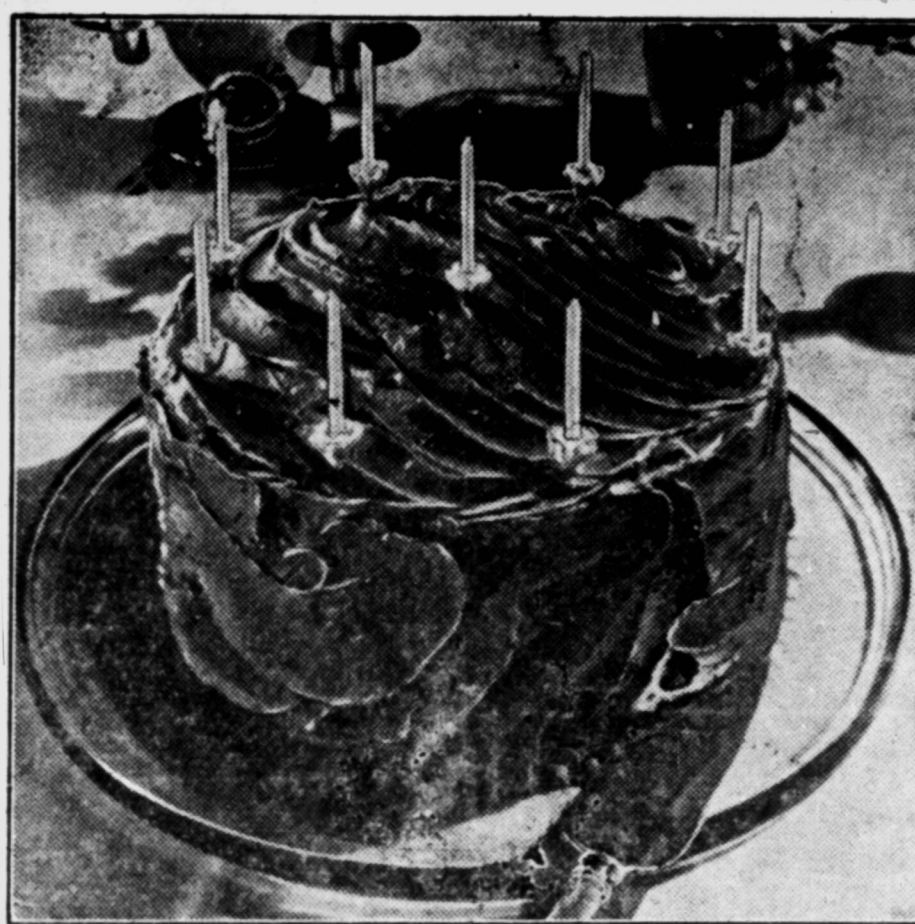

Under this plan each principal payment is used to reduce the amount of the mortgage and subsequent interest payments are thereby reduced. The payments on account of principal do not participate in the bank's dividend earnings as under the Co-operative Bank Plan, but on the other hand the mortgage is paid off at a fixed date which does not depend in any way upon the earnings of the bank.

We Will be Glad to Answer Your Questions on These Plans If You Call at the Bank in Person.

Happy Birthday To You!

THE breath-taking moment of every birthday party is the cutting of the cake—and the best cake that can be baked is none too good for the "birthday child." It looks as if the chocolate birthday cake idea had taken hold—for celebrants from 7 to 70 are demanding chocolate cakes. For the little folks mothers make individual chocolate sponge cakes, frost and decorate them and adorn them with a candle—a tactful way of disposing of that juvenile "second helping" problem.

Chocolate Birthday Cake
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup butter or other shortening
1 1/4 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs or 3 egg yolks, unbeaten
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sift flour once, measure, add soda, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each. Add chocolate with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased deep 9-inch layer pans or three greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Spread your favorite chocolate frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Double recipe for three 10-inch layers.

Tiny Tots Birthday Cake
4 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
4 egg yolks, unbeaten
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Add chocolate and sugar to milk in double boiler, and cook 10 minutes, or until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Cool, covered, stirring occasionally. Add vanilla. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and 1/2 cup sugar, and sift together three times. Add water to egg yolks and beat with rotary egg beater until thick and lemon-colored. Add 1/2 cup sugar gradually, beating until very thick—about 5 minutes. Fold in flour, alternately with chocolate mixture, 1/2 at a time, adding chocolate mixture last; then fold in egg whites. Turn into very slightly greased cup-cake pans, filling them almost to the tops. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 30 minutes, according to size. Makes 18 large, 24 medium, or 48 small cup cakes. Spread your favorite chocolate frosting on tops of cakes and insert small candle on each cup cake.

COHAN AND HARRIS

REUNITED AS PARTNERS

PRESENT NEW COMEDY

An event in the theatre with such a background of sentiment that it at once assumes national importance was staged in Boston beginning this week. That occasion was the reunion of George M. Cohan and Sam H. Harris as a producing firm. Their first offering as they join forces again is a new comedy with Mr. Cohan as star. It bears the title, "Fulton of Oak Falls," and the rather novel announcements state that this is Mr. Cohan's "own way of telling the story of Parker K. Fennelly's 'Fulton of Oak Falls.'" Mr. Fennelly has been most prominent in radio of recent years, pairing with Arthur Allen in "Snow Village Sketches", "The Stebbins Boys of Bucksport Point", "The Simpson Boys" and such popular features, but he was well established before that as a character actor on the stage. The Broadway premiere is due for a date in the near future.

LOOSEN THE STRANGLE HOLD

In a most impressively convincing talk before the local Chamber of Commerce in Wyman's Tavern Tuesday evening, State Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long agreed heartily that some of the tax load must be removed from real estate—that the home owner must be given some relief.

Commissioner Long went farther than mere generalities. He presented a solution and remarked, "If I could be allowed to put this plan into operation with no one throwing rocks into the machinery, it would work, I know it would work, to great advantage of all."

The Commissioner's plan was so obviously sane and reasonable, that there is no need of discussing it here. Readers will find a brief outline of the Long talk in a news story beginning on the front page of this issue.

But there is another way by which Arlington could lower her own tax rate without benefit of state legislation. The town could relax its strangle hold on private enterprise. We could give business more leeway for expansion.

No one agency has been more active than has the Advocate in upholding the town's rigid zoning laws, but after all, we must be reasonable in all things. It is an easily demonstrable fact that small single-family residences offer no tendency toward reducing the tax rate, because they do not even pay for themselves. They are really an expense to the town, particularly if there are two or three children to educate at public expense.

On the other hand, local business enterprise actually pays dividends into the treasury of the town, because it demands only the most inexpensive of public services—fire and police protection. We need more taxpayers who not only pay for themselves but help carry along the rest of the town as well. The fact is that Arlington will never get its tax-rate down until it assumes a more conciliatory attitude toward business.

Sunday is exchange day among the ministers of the Protestant churches. A big attendance is expected, because there is a certain amount of mystery connected with the annual custom. We are glad to see that all the pastors remembered that mystery feature this year. On one occasion, we remember, one of the ministers innocently announced that his pulpit would be filled by so-and-so, because he was going to preach at such-and-such.

Lawrence Bliss leaves next week on a South American cruise. What Bliss!

The Friends of the Drama are getting ready for their annual Gilbert & Sullivan production—the "Pirates of Penzance" this year. The bass section looks even better fed than usual and should make a swell constabulary chorus. Every member tips the beam at close to two hundred pounds.

In discussing additional sources of revenue before the Chamber of Commerce this week, Tax Commissioner Long said that a spread of the poll tax was out of the question. "If you try to tax women," he said, "the whole thing will blow up. The ladies don't like to be taxed." Mr. Long, you said something!

The Arlington police are very anxious to apprehend the gay young man who makes a practice of crashing private parties and robbing purses and overcoats. He has been seen several times. He has been ordered out of the house, "before I call the police." He has been stoned from his perch on a ladder. Yet no one has been able to supply an adequate description, and no one thought to call the police first.

This is the way the fellow works. He finds a house in which there is obviously a party in progress. Then he simply breaks into the room in which he thinks the wraps of the guests may be found and steals anything he can conveniently pick up. He did a pretty good business here and elsewhere during the holidays. As a matter of fact, the same man is wanted in every town around, but the Arlington police want him worst. Give them a lift, if you can.

Briefs

The Seventy-fifth Congress of the United States convened on Tuesday. Neutrality in Spain will be the first question taken up, no doubt, to be followed by labor problems.

France loans Poland 2,600,000,000 francs and explains it as a necessary factor in her national defense.

India votes to boycott the coronation ceremonies for King George VI. She will not assist the British Empire if she becomes involved in war, either.

The civil war in Spain which last week seemed about to starve, at this writing again threatens to become widespread because of Germany's insistence on halting Spanish Socialist merchant ships. She would avenge the capture of the Nazi freighter, Palos.

A general strike in the General Motors Corporation's 69 plants in 14 states may be called. Labor wants: (1) National collective bargaining between G. M. and the union; (2) Abolition of all piece-work systems for hourly pay; (3) Thirty-hour week; (4) Minimum wage; (5) Reinstatement of employees unjustly discharged; (6) Seniority recognition; (7) System of joint tribunals for collective bargaining with the union; (8) Speed of production to be mutually agreed on by the management and the unions.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., President of the G. M., defies the striking unions, saying, "Have no fear that any labor union or any labor dictator will dominate the plants of G. M. C."

The two months maritime strike moves to Washington. Each faction will urge Congress to do something, once and for all.

Nebraska's new unicameral Legislature convened January 5. This is a house with but one chamber.

Somerville celebrates the unfurling of the first "Grand Union" Jack and Stripes, (the first American flag) at Prospect Hill 161 years ago.

Henry Ford takes out a patent for a rear-engine automobile. The engine sits crosswise, mounted in rubber, almost directly over the rear axle.

A new speed indicator has been exhibited which will flash red on a speeding car.

Glen Morris, who set up a new world's record of 7900 points in winning the Olympic decathlon at Berlin, is awarded the Sullivan trophy. This trophy is awarded each year to the athlete "who by his performance, example and influence as an amateur and as a man, has done most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship." Morris received 1106 points. Jesse Owens was second choice with 1013 points.

Says Owens: "That's funny; but I'm glad the best man won."

Rising 2,000 feet above Colorado Springs and 10,000 feet above the sea stands a shaft of Colorado pink granite, "Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun." It was designed by Charles E. Thomas and erected by Spencer Penrose in memory of his friend, Will Rogers.

The temporary steel tower erected in 1929 from which "a perpetual light" beams in memory of Thomas Edison, will be replaced by a permanent structure in the near future. The architects are Messina and Du Pont; it will cost $100,000.

Andrew W. Mellon, Pittsburgh financier, and former Secretary of the United States Treasury for eleven years, has proffered to the people of his country his art collection, valued at $19,000,000. He made his collection with this intent in mind. President Roosevelt accepts the gift until such time as Congress shall act.

"Life", one of the real comics for more than a generation, is no more.

Out of the West comes Redfern Mason to succeed "H. T. P.", music critic for the Boston Evening Transcript.

Governor Curley and Mrs. Gertrude M. Dennis were married January 7. His friends presented him with an expensive automobile as "a token of esteem." It will bear the number plate S-5.

We salute the new Governor of the Commonwealth—Charles F. Hurley.

We have a most complete establishment from office to garage.

It pays to investigate your Funeral Director, his establishment and facilities for serving, instead of accepting the opinions of others.

One of our most important decisions is many times left to an outsider.

We invite inspection.

Arlington in Review

From the Files of the Arlington Advocate

IN 1887

Fifty Years Ago This Week

The rain of Saturday restored the skating on Spy Pond. It was not first-class, but the boys got lots of fun out of it.

The reporter who wrote the account of the finding of the remains of the man who was so horribly murdered, for the Herald, had a rather misty idea of the geographical location of Lexington and the character of the people. He could not have been aware of the fact that we have 43 trains daily which put us in full communication with the great Hub.

Charles T. Scannell, who for some years has been one of the most active local politicians of this section, both in town, district, and state affairs, at length announces what we all along felt to be his purpose, a desire to succeed Mr. Fowle in the position of post-master for Arlington, and those who have watched the action of the post-office department of late will have small doubt but what the coveted prize will come to Mr. Scannell.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held with Miss Butler, on Franklin street, next Wednesday evening.

The programme made up for the concert in aid of St. John's Church, next Wednesday evening, is one of rare excellence, as might well be expected from a director like Professor Whitney. Wulf Fries, the famous cello soloist, is alone worth the price of admission. Tickets can be had of Mr. C. W. Bastine.

Next Monday evening, January 10, there is to be a "greatest concert" in Union Hall, Arlington Heights, by the A. H. S. T. Club, assisted by Miss Alice May Estey and others, Prof. Prentiss acting as musical director. A thoroughly enjoyable evening is assured.

District Deputy Bro. Wm. Milligan and suite installed the officers of Bethel Lodge, No. 12, I. O. O. F., Wednesday evening, as follows: N. G. Donald Higgins; V. G. Nat E. Whittier; R. S. Chas. W. Bunker; P. S. Geo. A. Sawyer; Treas. Geo. Hill, Jr.; C. Henry Finley; W. J. Fred Bitzer; O. G. Ammi Hall; I. G. Chas. D. Austin; R. S. N. G. G. P. Pierce; L. S. N. G. C. W. Isley; R. S. V. G. Jas. Gibson; L. S. V. G. Chas. Learned; R. S. S. H. C. Fessenden; L. S. S. S. L. Elliot.

Twenty-Five Years Ago This Week

It does not seem to be generally known that the Robbins Spring Hotel, on Robbins road, has been converted into a sanatorium for patients addicted to liquor or drug habits. It is under the direction of Dr. Henry Hull, and has been open since last April, so we are informed.

Prof. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, of Brunswick, Maine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Louise, a student at Wellesley College, to Mr. Warren Eastman Robinson, of Arlington, the submaster in the Watertown High School.

Misses Marjorie S. Gott, Anna Barnes, and Gladys Richardson, all members of the class of 1910, A. H. S., gave a dancing party Saturday evening last, in Adelphi Hall, which was attended by some fifteen couples which included college friends from Bowdoin, Amherst and Dartmouth, besides members of the class of which the young ladies were members. Music for dancing was given by Jack Hutchinson and Harrie Dadmun, who took turns at the piano. Fruit punch was served throughout the evening. The party was matronized by Mrs. W. K. Cook and Mrs. Albert H. Goodwin, both in handsome lingerie dresses. It was a pretty party and especially enjoyed, as it was a reunion for many who were home for the Christmas holidays.

The tendering of the gift of a Town House to our town is to be made at the town meeting next Monday evening. Try and be present. The meeting is called at half past seven.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Barker, who have recently moved into their attractive new home at 26 Lombard road, celebrated the New Year with a house-warming, which was greatly enjoyed by their friends, who admired the new house and all of its appointments. Refreshments were served during the evening under the direction of N. J. Hardy.

Mr. Arthur Kallom, principal of Russell grammar school, underwent the surgical operation for appendicitis at a Boston Hospital on Thursday of last week. Mr. Kallom took the case in hand before it became too critical and his complete and speedy recovery is anticipated within the month. His absence is felt at the Russell school, where he is highly regarded by teachers and pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace F. Nickerson of 205 Pleasant street, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McKenzie left Tuesday of this week for New York. They will be gone for ten days. Messrs. McKenzie and Nickerson are partners in the engraving business.

Marriages

CROCKETT — MARTELL

Estelle I. Martell, 153 Medford street, was married to Forest B. Crockett, 72 Jason street, at the home of the bride's father, Wednesday evening, December 30. Rev. Nelson B. Baker performed the ceremony at 8:30 by candlelight and Louis B. Martell, the bride's father, gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride was gowned in blue moire and wore silver slippers, while the maid of honor, Jean E. Martell, was dressed in rose brocade satin with gold slippers and carried a bouquet of talisman roses. Evelyn G. Martell, the bridesmaid, wore orchid mousseline de soie and carried pink roses. Robert Crockett was the best man.

Mrs. Hector McNeil sang, "O Promise Me."

After a wedding trip to New York and New Hampshire, the couple will reside at 36 Quint avenue, Allston.

The bride is a graduate of Lawrence High School and Burdett College. The groom attended Norwich University and the Bentley School of Accounting.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Charles Gullotti, 126 Charles street, Waltham, and Pauline Elsie Lenzi, 64 Mystic street.

Robert Donald Nevins, 182 Forest street and Amanda Louise Lengill.

Morsie Andleman, 74 Highland avenue, Cambridge, and Phyllis Jacobs, 51 Westminster avenue.

Henry Stuart Hollis, 141 West 73rd street, New York, and Ethel Lavinia MacKay, 43 Brantwood road.

Three Rabid Dogs Are Reported Here

The Board of Health has received reports on the heads of three dogs which ran amuck in the lower end of the town recently and find that all three had rabies. Although no person was actually bitten, several were exposed to the disease, and some are taking the irksome anti-rabies treatment.

Dogs known to have been bitten by the rabid animals are all in quarantine.

"Pride and Prejudice" Coming to Colonial

A caustic comedy of manners, with scenes laid in England in the pre-Victorian days, is "Pride and Prejudice", the dramatization by Helen Jerome of Jane Austen's world-famous novel which Max Gordon will present at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, for three weeks beginning Monday, January 11th, with matinees on Thursdays and Saturdays.

Several generations of readers have revelled in the romance, charm, wit, humor and irony of the story, which set a new fashion in novel writing in the early years of the 19th Century; and playgoers of New York were equally delighted by the dramatization during its all-season run at the Plymouth Theatre. It harks back to the halcyon days of the theatre when the drama was not corroded by cynicism and weighed down by sex. Without a gun or a gangster, a harlot or a hellion, a damn or a double entendre, it became a triumphant Broadway success—startling, but true.

In the days of "Pride and Prejudice" any young woman who was not married before 25 was pitifully looked upon as a hopeless spinster. The plight of a mother with a brood of daughters to marry off, especially if they are inclined to be "choosy", may be imagined. Such is the predicament of Mrs. Bennett in this story, and what with pride on part of one of her daughters, and a lack of it on part of another, the prejudice as well as pride in some of the eligible swains and their families, she has a trying time of it indeed before getting three of them off her hands.

Such a play depends much for its effect upon cast, direction and production, and in this respect, Max Gordon gave of his best. Jo Mielzinger's settings and costumes reflect the atmosphere and spirit of the time, and Robert Sinclair's direction caught the mood and manner of its people. The cast, selected by Mr. Gordon in person, comprises such clever artists as Muriel

ARLINGTON HAD GROWING PAINS, TOO

PASSEMENTERIE AND PEARLS

By Mary F. Clarke

The 70s and 80s were the years of excessive femininity; of prevailing ethereal loveliness, roseleaf complexions, wasp waists and quick consumption. There were the disappearing toes, too, under the long gowns; her-foot-like-tiny-mice-stole-in-and-out-of-things so thrilling to the gentlemen.

But dear heaven, wasn't it a Utopian Era for the dressmaker and the dry-goods merchant! "Yes, Madam, there's five yards of blue faille and ten yards of white with the silver stripe, twenty-five dollars in all, Madam, and a very elegant dress for Madam, if I may venture to say." Then—"Yes, Mrs. Wigglesworthy, the petticoat will have puffs at the bottom like this, Yes, it is the very last word, Mrs. Wigglesworthy, the very last word of fashion, I assure you, and the overskirt will have eight loopings caught in place by these sweet forgetmenots that I bought just for you, Mrs. Wigglesworthy, aren't they just too elegant, Mrs. Wigglesworthy! Um-m, as you say we need something different for the basque, the ruchings and knife pleatings are going out. Now I think I have the very thing for you. In Demorest's magazine there is a new idea straight from Paris: you take a piece of white satin or blue satin and a piece of all-over lace, sew the lace on the satin, then garnish it with silver beads, gold beads, or even diamonds and pearls. Yes, isn't it just too utterly! It has a funny French name, Mrs. Wigglesworthy, would you pronounce it for me, it's p-a-s-s-e—oh, thank you so much. Now can you come for a fitting next Tuesday? And please don't forget those 16 whalebones for the basque." In brief Mrs. Wigglesworthy was so beautiful that she was written up for the Cotting High School Alumni Ball. Let's go to the ball and see for ourselves what some of the ladies wore.

Arlington Advocate, Feb. 7, 1890: Cotting High School Alumni Reception: "It is quite impossible for us to enter into the detail of the costumes worn by the ladies, for all were becomingly and in many respects beautifully dressed. We will mention a few: Miss Pattee was in pale blue India silk with

COMMUNITY CLASSES

In answer to the many inquiries, it has been made known that Philip A. Hendrick, prominent lawyer, will return again this year to conduct the law course.

The registration fee of fifty cents admits one to all lectures and includes as many as one wishes to attend.

Following is a list of the Thursday evening classes:

Sewing.
Painting and Drawing.

Greek draperies; Miss Dupee, a very pretty dress of figured fawn-colored silk picked out with dark velvet ribbon; Miss Shattuck: blue cashmere trimmed with ribbon velvet and black lace; Mrs. Fred Rich, white silk.

Miss Eliza Robbins wore a handsome decollete black silk toilette en train. Miss Cairn Robbins and Miss Lawrence wore dainty white gowns with full tulle sleeves. Miss Knowles was in Nile green silk and tulle and Miss Gott in the same color of nun's veiling trimmed with figured silk. One of the handsomest and most stylish gowns noted was that worn by Mrs. Chabuck of heliotrope silk and white silk vandyke garniture." (The very print of the words gives one a sense of the luxuriousness of costume and occasion.)

It is always a pleasure to quote from the Arlington Advocate, so pray allow me this paragraph from the Menotomy Sociable, Dec. 11, 1880: "Some elegant new dresses from the establishment of Mrs. O. J. Derby were worn on this occasion and our reporter was favored with the display of one at Mrs. Derby's, the whole being her own design and workmanship. We venture to give a description of it: It was a short costume made of satin De Leon and brocade velvet, very richly trimmed with Oriental fringe and ornaments and with heavy silk cord. The main part of the dress was of satin with the overdress of the brocade velvet. It was cut basque back and princess front, very elegantly draped and trimmed with the fringe. Around the bottom of the skirt was a box-pleated ruffle. The parts of the skirt exposed by drapery were heart-shaped. It was a model of taste and elegance."

Today's parties are dressed more comfortably and the acrobatics of the dancers more various and fluid, but perhaps they lack some of the grace and dignity of the earlier time. What do you think?

MIGHTY SWEET!

When Andrew Loomis, famous artist, designed the Studebaker twenty-four sheet poster shown in the background of the above picture, he didn't know he was going to start a hat fad. But he did—more than two score milliners in America are now making hats similar to the one Mr. Loomis (at left above) created. Leading stores in the larger cities are showing and selling the hat. Mr. Loomis is inspecting the "Mighty Sweet" hat on a model in the above picture.

Paul Powers Sings
In Worcester Messiah

When Handel gave his first performance of the "Messiah" in Dublin, Ireland, soprano arias were sung by boy sopranos as women did not sing in public in those days.

Mr. J. Vernon Butler, conductor of the Worcester Oratorio Society in presenting the "Messiah" in the beautiful new Auditorium at Worcester, remembering this, introduced a boy soprano for the second time in the thirty-five times the society has sung the Oratorio.

Paul Powers, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Powers of Harvard street, was selected from Boston choir boys to sing the difficult aria, "How Beautiful Are the Feet."

Standing in the center of the great stage in cassock and surplice, surrounded by a chorus of four hundred voices, accompanied by an orchestra of fifty-five pieces and facing an audience of close to four thousand, Paul in an angelic boy soprano, which floated out over the vast audience, sang the difficult aria without a flaw. The Worcester papers next morning carried pictures and very favorable comments.

His picture in cassock and surplice was given prominence in the program booklet.

Paul is a pupil of Prof. Leonard S. Whalen and solo boy at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Harrison avenue, Boston, where on Sundays at the 10:30 mass he sings, with the choir of sixty-five men and boys, the Liturgical music of the Catholic Church, so seldom heard to-day.

Girl Scout Notes

Troop 2
At the last meeting of Troop 2 there were nine girls invested. These girls were: Eileen McCarthy, Marion Perry, Rosemary McCarthy, Jean Kerr, Barbara Strachan, Shirley Robbins, Marjorie Hoyt, Ann Fleming, and Ruth Donnelly.

On Wednesday, December 23rd, there were fifteen of the girls who went Christmas carolling. After carolling we went to Scout headquarters, where we had hot chocolate and cookies.

Troop 3
Troop 3 had a fine time at its Christmas party. Some interesting games were first on our program. Then we had a play. Anne Carens read "The Night Before Christmas", while Betty Maxim, Phyllis Birch, Evelyn Barry, Marjorie Wilson and Jeanne Garcelon acted it out. After this, Jeanne Garcelon as Santa Claus, gave each girl a present. Before going home we enjoyed cake, cookies and something to drink.

Troop 4
Troop 4 had its meeting at the Hardy School. Today was one of the biggest days in Troop 4's history, for half the troop was invested, followed by a party. Mrs. Hawkes invested the following girls:— Virginia Black, Jean Wright, Marie Priest, Lois McGorty, Gloria Assanti, Dorothy Munroe, Justine Power, Evelyn Duffy, Alice Carney, Gloria Marshall, Norma Campbell and Barbara Sullivan. After playing games we had candy, cake and ice cream. Mrs. Beaumont made the delicious cake. We were pleased to have the parents of a few girls come to join in the fun.

Troop 5
Last Tuesday on our regular meeting day, we planned a trip to the Hood's Ice Cream plant. We met at the corner of Fessenden road at 1:15 and had a special bus to take us over and back. Upon our arrival at Hood's we received refreshments and then were very graciously taken through the building by one of the attendants. We saw how the ice-cream was mixed and frozen. Then we saw them putting it into iron cans and being sent to the refrigeration room and we also saw the "Hoodsies" packed in boxes. We took a peek into the refrigeration room but did not attempt to go into it because it was 20° below zero.

Troop 6
After we came out of Hood's it was still early in the afternoon, so we made arrangements to go to Whiting's Milk Plant. At Whiting's we saw how the milk was brought down from other parts of New England in freight cars which had glass containers that held 2000 gallons of milk. We also saw the milk being pasteurized and bottled. Sometime in a later vacation we plan to go to the Necco Candy Department.

Troop 7
This meeting started with the playing of games. We also had a formal opening. During the craft period that followed we made a "Girl Scout Blotter" in green and red. The blotter was in the shape of a Girl Scout Pin with a calendar attached on the front. Our meeting ended at 5 o'clock.

Troop 8
On Monday, December 21, Troop 11 had their Christmas party. Each girl was requested beforehand to bring a ten-cent gift to exchange with any other girl in the troop. After many suitable Christmas games were played, the girls marched around and took a gift from the grab-bag. Girl Scout cookies and ice cream were served, which everyone enjoyed. I am sure. Lieutenant Sorenson presented Captain Bond with a cameo brooch from the troop. As each girl left she was given a bag of candy and a peppermint cane.

Troop 9
Troop 12 met in the basement of the Cutter School for its Christmas party. We distributed presents and then sang carols while the refreshments were being served. We are going to start Junior Citizenship soon.

Troop 10
Due to the efforts of Miss McGowan and Miss Ross, Troop 13 enjoyed a very successful Christmas party. Games were played, refreshments were served and gifts were exchanged. Many contributions were made towards the Christmas basket assigned to this troop.

Troop 11
Troop 14 held its meeting at the Hardy School. Today was one of the biggest days in Troop 14's history, for half the troop was invested, followed by a party. Mrs. Hawkes invested the following girls:— Virginia Black, Jean Wright, Marie Priest, Lois McGorty, Gloria Assanti, Dorothy Munroe, Justine Power, Evelyn Duffy, Alice Carney, Gloria Marshall, Norma Campbell and Barbara Sullivan. After playing games we had candy, cake and ice cream. Mrs. Beaumont made the delicious cake. We were pleased to have the parents of a few girls come to join in the fun.

Troop 12
On Monday, December fourteenth, Troop 11 had its registration day. There were many guests present, including some members of the Girl Scout Council and our Commissioner, Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes. The program was as follows: Welcome Song . . . All the Troop Colors—

Flag bearer, Mildred Whitcomb; Troop flag bearer, Virginia Bott; Color Guards, Betty Slade, Kathleen O'Brien.

SANATORIUM IS ASSET
SAYS LAWRENCE BLISS

It has occupied for the past sixty years. Does someone want the beautiful grounds, now occupied or owned by the hospital, for further real estate development?

The Ring Sanatorium has a national reputation and surely is an asset to Arlington. It's an asset to taxpayers, because it contributes heavily to the town treasury, and yet costs the town very little in service. A real estate development means more school costs, already the town's heaviest expense, to say the least.

It's an asset in time of emergency. Do the objectors remember how much of value this institution was to Arlington during the flu epidemic of 1917? Do they realize that less than one-third of the patients at the sanatorium are "mental" cases? Do they realize how local physicians are daily able to consult sanatorium psychiatrists and receive helpful service and co-operation on many cases the average person never hears about?

Knowing these things, how could anyone be so selfish or so heartless as to help drive out of Arlington an agency for good, just to make way for an unneeded real estate development?

Very truly yours,

PAUL CUNHA WINS

School Committee to be entered in the national competition.

The local judges were Dr. Clarence H. Dempsey, superintendent of schools; Arthur J. Mansfield, publisher of the News, and Harold B. Wood, publisher of the Advocate.

Other competitors were Bernard Forest, Robert Young, Robert Shea, John Bulger, Joseph Guange, John Constantine, Herbert Law, Daniel McGurl, William Silk and Robert Casalon.

The winning essay is as follows:
"The Importance of Color in Printing"

By Paul Cunha

The importance of color in printing is that it is a great asset to the one who employs it. Printing is no longer a study in black and white, it has been divided into two classes, the color class and the black and white. Color printing has been so developed that the masterpieces of great artists have been copied so well that they bring out almost the same tones of colors as the originals. Printing was practically at a standstill till color was introduced. The magazine that used it first, doubled its circulation. Now days every magazine of any importance has sections of it done in color. The leading newspapers of the country have a colored section in their Sunday issue, besides the colored comic section.

Letter-heads done in black and white are disappearing fast and attractive letter-heads done in colors that blend are taking their place. Now that the American people are living on canned goods, they have indirectly brought prosperity to the printer. The cans have labels, and they have to be printed, they have helped in the development of color printing. Large department stores have mail-order houses, and they send out thousands of catalogues, these catalogues have to be done in color in order that the consumers may know what they are buying. Merchandise such as rugs have to be printed in many colors and the designs on the rugs make it a very tricky layout. The printing house that prints these catalogues ought to know how to use color to its utmost advantages.

The coming out of the new model cars in the fall is another important factor in color printing. In doing this the printer has to be sure that he has the right tones of colors and light spots in the right places. When such an undertaking as this has been done properly, the printer can and should feel proud of his work.

The use of color is important in more than one way, besides in advertising, letter-heads and in newspapers; it can be used to bring people useful pictures, such as: reproductions of great masterpieces, pictures of famous men in history, and educational pictures. Colored postcards are useful to people who traveled and like to refer to some of the familiar scenes again. Color printing should be taught in public and trade schools whenever there is time. Any boy who has taken up printing should know a little about color printing.

When printing in color becomes more common, I believe that it should become part of the printing class. It could even be taught as a separate subject, for here we can clearly see how close Art and Printing are related to each other. No one should ever underestimate the importance of color in printing.

COMMUNITY CHEST
COMMENTS

Russell Wise, General Chairman of the 1937 campaign of the Arlington Community Fund, announces this week the appointment of Mrs. Edna E. Donnelly as Assistant General Chairman. Mrs. Donnelly has accepted as her first assignment the responsibility for the lists which are to be used in the forthcoming campaign.

Arlington Community Chest headquarters has, during the past week, been a hive of activity, perfecting preliminary plans and building lists, preparatory to its campaign which will be launched some time in April. The actual dates are to be determined at the next meeting of the Executive Committee which is to be held in the near future. Besides the regular staff and the Chest and Campaign officers, the Chest has been using also the services of a regular group of volunteers under the direction of Mrs. Edna E. Donnelly, who has recently accepted appointment as Assistant General Chairman and who will have, among other duties, complete charge of all lists.

It is of worthwhile note that among the two hundred or more dinners distributed to needy families through the Welfare Council office at Christmas time, there were many such families whose names do not appear on any relief records, but because the need there is known to Welfare Council workers, they received this extra Christmas cheer.

There are now twelve Boy Scout Troops in Arlington with 312 Scouts enrolled. This is an average of 26 boys a Troop which is also the national average in size of Troops. There are many more boys who want to become Scouts. The need is for more organizations to sponsor Troops and to provide meeting places and facilities.

A number of articles recently in Boston papers relating to life saving by Boy Scouts through first aid and ice rescues reminds us that we never know when and where service may be rendered by a Boy Scout because of his training. First Aid is a regular part of the advancement program from Tenderfoot to Second Class and First Class rank and there are popular merit badges in First Aid and Life Saving.

The boys in one Patrol of Troop 10, Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, not satisfied with the fact that the Troop was providing two Christmas baskets, wanted to provide an extra basket of their own, and did so after inquiry at the Arlington Welfare Council office.

Scout membership in Sachem Council during the past year increased from 1182 to 1258.

For the sixth consecutive year and for eleven years out of the past twelve (The Council was organized in 1925) the membership has shown a slow but sure increase.

When Sachem Council was organized the number of Scouts enrolled was under 300.

In spite of this steady increase there are now in Sachem Council area 1269 boys of each Scout age, 12, 13, 14, 15, who might become Scouts if the Council had leaders and financial resources to take care of them.

QUESTION BOX

Question: Is the Arlington Community Chest, Inc. drive just one more drive in addition to all the others?

Answer: NO. This is a campaign for a fund to be used by the four participating agencies to meet their expenses for the year 1937. The Community Chest reduces the solicitation for funds in the town from four to one.

Question: What connection has the Community Chest with the Community Fund Drive for Greater Boston from January 25 to February 9th, 1937.

Answer: None. The Community Federation of Boston is asking Arlington residents to contribute for that service which some of the Boston agencies furnish to Arlington residents. THE ARLINGTON COMMUNITY CHEST (Your Community Chest) will make its campaign in April for the support of a group of Arlington Agencies.

"DESTROY EXTRA COST"

licated subject exceedingly lucid and interesting. Following his address there were some questions, but his answers were so full and conclusive that there seemed to be little argument left when he was through.

The speaker started by pointing out the fact that the people are demanding more and more government services and that a reduction of taxes was virtually impossible, on that account.

He then proposed that some of the burden be lifted from real estate by the imposition of one or more forms of direct tax. In the question period he denounced the twenty-five dollar tax rate limit idea as absolutely unsound and declared that the proponents could not honestly believe in it. He did suggest that retail sales tax should be levied and the income tax base be broadened so that everyone would contribute directly to the cost of government without the waste of indirect taxes.

The income tax could not, however, be carried too far into the lower income brackets, he said, because of the tremendous cost of collections. Even now the department handles well over 100,000 returns which pay no tax at all because of exemptions. The exemptions should be abolished, he suggested.

The people of Massachusetts, he said, want to be fooled. They do not want to see that they are being taxed. He pointed out the fact that special taxes on public utilities and other businesses were the easiest kind of taxes to pass on to the consumer. The electric, gas and other companies simply charge the tax to the consumer and return the amount to the government, minus the cost of collection. Landlords collect taxes from their tenants, but there is a big percentage lost, before the money gets into the treasury. If everyone paid a direct tax instead, he would quickly see that he was paying a sum out of proportion to the benefits he received and would demand curtailment of government activities.

While Massachusetts is in the most advanced stages of governmental service, she is still back in the stone age as far as taxation is concerned, said the speaker. "We must destroy the enormous extra cost of indirect taxation."

The following were voted into membership:—
Mrs. Catherine Thibodeau, 53 Mystic street. Operates restaurant at 727 Massachusetts avenue.
Richard Donovan, 28 Chandler street. Attorney, with office at 102 Ames Building, Boston.

William Golden, 113 Medford street. Florist at 325 Broadway.

Donald M. MacLeod, 45 Lockeland avenue. Proprietor of the delicatessen at 6 Medford street.

Thomas F. Murphy, 1192 Massachusetts avenue. Proprietor of doughnut manufactory at 1195 Massachusetts avenue.

Harry S. Briggs, 2 Sutherland road. Proprietor of doughnut manufactory at 1195 Massachusetts avenue.

Charles M. Stevens, 94 Harlow street. Advertising man for Arlington News, 793 Massachusetts avenue.

William Whowell

Since our last meeting, William Whowell has passed to the great beyond. Our President has deputed to us the sad duty of drawing up this Memorial.

William Whowell was a member of this Association for many years, and as Chairman of the business division, was very active in bringing to the citizens of our town, the advantages of trading with the Arlington stores.

"Billie", as we liked to call him, and as he preferred to be known by his friends, was a man of genial disposition and of a kindly nature. He was always ready to help a friend.

As a man in business, he was one of the old fashioned kind, one who gave his personal attention to his customers' wants, strictly honorable, and honest in all his dealings.

We deeply grieve that our Lord and Saviour has in His infinite wisdom, taken him from us and to Himself, in the flush of his manhood.

We shall miss him and we feel his loss a very personal one. The Centre will never seem just the same without him.

To his dear wife and helpmate, goes our sincere sympathy for the loss of a lovable and devoted husband.

May we also live that when each of us shall cross over the Valley into the great beyond, our friends will feel our loss as keenly as we now feel the loss of our friend,

WHOWELL'S DRY GOODS

STORE OFFERS WEEK
END CLEARANCE SALE

Mary T. Bunker, who took over the dry goods establishment of William Whowell, when the latter passed away three weeks ago, is offering a week-end clearance sale this week, giving the public a tremendous opportunity for economical purchases.

Various items, including hand bags, fabric gloves, house dresses, stockings and many other items are being marked down from thirty to fifty percent. The advertisement in this issue states that the store, which is still located at 649 Massachusetts avenue, now also carries a line of men's goods.

RAND-SMITH ORCHESTRA
TO PLAY FOR F. OF D.
THEATRICAL BALL

The committee has engaged the Rand-Smith collegiate orchestra to supply music at the annual Friends of the Drama Theatrical Ball, which will be given in Robbins Memorial Town Hall on the evening of February 12. The orchestra of ten pieces has been in great demand recently for college dances and debutante parties, the Advocate has been informed by Ernest Hesselbein, Jr., who is chairman of the sub-committee on music.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry McNamara of Allston announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice Frances, to Dr. Robert W. Barrett, son of Robert Barrett of Arlington.

Miss McNamara is a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's Academy in Brighton and of Regis College, Class of 1934. At present she is in the employ of her father, who is a well-known contractor.

Dr. Barrett, who maintains an extensive practice in Lexington, graduated from Boston College and from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy and Surgery and is on the Clinical Staff of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital in Jamaica Plain. He is a member of the Iota Tau Sigma Fraternity.

No date has been set for the wedding.

PIRATES COMING

AT END OF MONTH

A cast made up entirely of club members of the organization will sing the "Pirates" on the evenings of January 27, 28, 29, and 30, at the clubhouse on Academy street. Over fifty people are included in the cast and chorus, including the famous "Pirates" and "Policemen", and an orchestra of 18 will accompany the performances.

New singers to be heard in principal roles this year include the radio tenor, Jack Beauvais, who will sing the role of Frederic. Another new-comer to the organization is Robert Rutledge, a bass-baritone, whose singing of the "Pirate King's" song is one of the highlights of the performance. Dorothy Robinson, a contralto who will sing the role of Ruth, is also a newcomer to the organization, as is Kathleen Howard, who sings the role of Edith.

Favorites from previous performances who will again be heard this year, include Marie Timmons, singing the role of Mabel. Miss Timmons is well remembered for her performance in the title role of "Princess Ida" last year, and has been heard throughout the fall and winter as soprano soloist with Terry O'Toole's program over the Yankee network. Mildred Anderson will be heard as Kate.

The men's roles in the "Pirates" include Hugh Curry as Major-General Stanley, Warren Ford as Samuel, and David Kennedy as the Sergeant of Police.

The entire production is again this year under the direction of Edward W. Center, who has presented the previous four Gilbert and Sullivan productions for the Friends of the Drama. The scenery, music and costumes will be provided by the Tracy Music Library, the scenery to be executed by Charles Stewart and Sons of Arlington, and the costumes to be created by Hayden of Boston.

THIEF RANSACKS HOME
ON HARLOW STREET

While the family was away, the James M. Ford home at 32 Harlow street was broken into sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning and several articles stolen. Mrs. Frank Dooliver of 38 Harlow street discovered the break and reported it to the police who found that entrance had been gained by jimmying the front door. The apartment was ransacked.

Church. They were buried side by side in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Neither knew that the other had passed away. Mrs. King died Sunday morning after having been unconscious for four days as a result of a shock. On the same day his wife was stricken, Mr. King succumbed to bronchial pneumonia, after a short illness.

The couple had lived in Arlington for the past forty years. Most of that time Mr. King had been employed by the Town of Arlington, but was forced to retire in 1933 because of ill health. Both were natives of Newfoundland, Mr. King being born there seventy-four years ago, son of Samuel King and Mary Shea. Mrs. King died at the age of seventy-one. She was the daughter of Benjamin Ghaney and Elizabeth Keough.

Mr. and Mrs. King leave two daughters, Miss Margaret King, who lived with her parents, and Mrs. Katherine MacMillan of Belmont.

The celebrated Vienna Choir Boys, who are appearing in Jordan Hall, Boston, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. This photograph was taken with his holiness, Pope Pius XI, following a special audition in the Vatican. At that time the Choir Boys were presented a parchment testimonial proclaiming their voices, "so flutelike and sweet, like angels' voices in paradise."

WARNING

Lexington police reported a month ago that a man described as being 40 years of age, five feet nine in height, slender, red-faced, wearing glasses, a dark overcoat, and brown felt hat, collected money from store keepers on agreeing to place an advertising clock in store windows. The man has not been heard from since. Arlington merchants are warned to be on the alert.
